Letter from Youth Inside to Youth Everywhere:

2-7-11

Dear Young Teen or Teens,

The one feeling lonely, the one that is sad, the one who is hurt, the one who wants attention, the geek, the jock, the popular, the unpopular, the one who is ashamed, the one who wants to share, the one who cares, the one who is excited, the one who is frustrated. I ask you right now, Stop... Think about what you are doing right now. Think about the things you can do today.

Example. That lonely person – get up and talk to that exciting person. That popular person – stop and go talk to that unpopular person. You are the future. You will make a change in the world. Do something unimaginable. Do something positive to help each other. Come together as one. Don't judge. Don't hate. Love and respect each other.

You want to become a fireman, in the military, a cheerleader, a football player, a tennis player? What are you doing today to be that successful young man or young lady? You have to make the change you need to become what you truly want.

Don't be afraid. It doesn't matter what the person next to you thinks about you. When you become what you want, where will that person be? You will have a good life if you are a good person. It's not easy. But, the outcome will be worth it.

Good luck on your journey, and when you fall down, get back up. Keep trying. Don't ever give up the faith or the goals you set for yourself.

Sincerely,

The person who tried, but gave up,
the person who got up and tried again,
and is succeeding positively.
