

HRW Student Task Force

Taking responsibility for the future

www.hrwtf.org

Thank you for your interest in the Human Rights Watch Student Task Force (STF). HRW's Los Angeles-based youth leadership-training program brings together high school students and educators from the LA area and empowers them to advocate for human rights issues, especially the rights of children. As an original project of HRW Los Angeles Committee, STF must raise all its own funding by relying on the STF Advisory Committee.

How to support STF:

- Donate to STF
- Tell your friends about STF
- Join the STF Advisory Committee

Assist with our wish list:

- Introductions to foundations that support education, leadership or youth-focused projects
- Introductions to donors
- Pro bono printing
- Free venue for 50 to 100-person leadership workshops
- Introductions to public officials

For more information:

Pam Bruns, Volunteer Executive Director – pamelapb@aol.com

Kristin Ghazarians, Project Liaison – ghazark@hrw.org, 323-694-5185

Go to: www.hrwtf.org

Please contact me about supporting HRW Student Task Force:

Name: _____

Email or phone: _____

Comments or suggestions: _____

